THEATRES

GOOD VAUDEVILLE SHOW AT BOOKER WASHINGTON THEATRE

Ollie Green opens the show at the Booker Washington theatre this week with a slick wire performance. He will be featured in writing, dancing, singing and comedy. The program includes music and dancing, a difficult and clever exhibition of balancing and done with a lit lamp on his head while he passes a ring over his body. The act ends.

Rhodes and Jenkins are a lively male pair. They have a real funny line, the combination of comic and sing and dance is to the delight of the audience. Their songs are old but put over in a way that goes big because of their crisp style and satire.

Edith & Bessie are an athletic and winning satirists. She has real timing and not only is an excellent singer and dancer with her artful dancing, she is a clever actress. In addition to her songs and dances much original later work, "Scandalous" and "Someday's Mother" are two of her songs.

Bell and Bell, another male team, close the show. They have energetic dances, "Shallots" and a big story or two. "The Story of the West," and "After It's Show on Sunday," makes a distinct hit. The speedy dances make the audience in the right mood.

BILLY McLAURIN COMPANY IN COMING NEAT WEEK

The Billy McLaurin Musical Comedy Company with "The Southern Darling Girl" will return to the Booker Washington Theatre next week for a single-week's engagement. The aggregation of ten performers is said to be of more than ordinary ability and interest. The company will perform close and silent. Monday will be "Pay Day" for the patrons as usual.

THE PICTURE THEATRES

"Pulling It Over," "Just Tom, And "Home First" At Casino.

Richard Tatnidge in "Putting It Over" will be the feature at the Casino Young People's Club. It is a story of some town politics and a series of events including prize fights and gun encounters.

Tom Mix will be presented in "And To Think I'm a Gentleman" the story of a wild mustang. He leaves his desert herd, who seeks vengeance for the caprices which have inflicted the same upon him. He is forced to it by some under the protection of the one man in the world who betrayed him.

Hoot Gibson in "Home Front" will be featured on Wednesday. The film tells the story of two brothers, both of whom are serving in the French army as privates. One is killed as an officer, the other as a private. While Jacques, who leads his brother's company in the attack when Honore becomes a deserter and leaves with Villi Victory, is instrumental in the deserting brother and Jacques are leaped upon him in the other's name. It is a patriotic film, serious, compelling, inspiring, elevating, ending in a romance of stirring power and interest.

"Trimmed," "The Song of the Wolf" "Without Benefit of Clergy" At The Star.

Hotel Gibson will be presented in "Trimmed" at the Star Theatre this Sunday. The story concerns a young character who returns from four glorious years in the Army with the most trim ring sinks to realize that the young man's great popularity among his friends is due mainly to his sharp wit. The country boy, who has been overwhelmed, vote him in, creates havoc with the plans of the political party, and, as a result, has a political life.

On Tuesday Jack London's "The Son of the Wolf" will be presented. The story concerns a man and his wife, who are separated. He returns home to find his wife has married another man.

THEATRES—CONTINUED

"When the Devil Drives," "Lesson in Love," "The Sin of Martha Queed," "Jesusalem."

Leah Baird in "When the Devil Drives" will be presented at the Jester Theatre on Sunday and Monday. It is about the conversion of the heart of two women. One is a sophisticated woman of the world—a woman with a past. The other is a pure, innocent girl, the product of an upright, upstanding man. Both are disappointed. Yet, when anger, disappointment, hurt pride and wounded love send each into the arms of the other, hell is born. Then drives them to recompense. Then the girl of refinement is no finer than the other woman. After all, women good and bad are alike.

Constance Talmadge will be seen in "Lessons in Love" on Wednesday and Thursday. The star gives some very interesting performances in this story of a baroness and a young Woodstock in her latest. First National starring vehicle, which is very appropriate. The two elderly gentlemen who are very anxious to see her married to a chap she has never seen. Constance guides herself as a homely old fool to get her to go with the young fellow in question.

Next Friday and Saturday, the feature will be Leah Baird in "Martha Queed." This shows how this man's suspicious mind affected the members of his own family. Leah, who has the most attractive figure in the picture, is the daughter of Martha, who though innocent, is suspected by the son in her father's mind. The story is interspersed with Mary Thurman, Niles Welch, Joseph L. Downing, Frank Campani and others.

"Our Leading Citizen," "Husband's Gal," "The Son of the Wolf," "At the Criterion."

Thomas Meighan in "Our Leading Citizen" will be presented on Friday. It is the story of a young lawyer in a small town who is devoted to his studies and who, at the same time, loves a woman. When he meets and wins a beauty, he meets again a girl he has admired back home. She returns first and leaves him. He follows her and proves the way she left him. But he is too prompt in hiding his light under a bushel. Finally he is caught and prospered—prospered by the people of the town. But he still refuses to agree to certain corrupt demands and learning as he believes, that the girl has urged him to further her interests, he disappears. "The Son of the Wolf" is a story of a man who is brought back, wins the election and wins the girl who was always true to himself and to him.

"The Son of the Wolf" will be presented next Tuesday. It is a flaming, exciting story and the artistes are excellent. In this picture, the girl is courageous for the love of a white man and who—how her man falters and then, with real love and nobility, triumphs with stark and bold.

"The Son of the Wolf" will be presented next Thursday. It is a flaming, exciting story and the artistes are excellent. In this picture, the girl is courageous for the love of a white man and who—how her man falters and then, with real love and nobility, triumphs with stark and bold.

"The Devil Drives," "Lesson in Love," "The Sin of Martha Queed," "Jesusalem."

The Criterion Theatre will present "Charles Boy" in "The Son of the Wolf" on Saturday. It derives its name from the name of the card which is responsible for the star importance in the picture. Although the story is not particularly original it may be regarded as a calamity, the tragedy is submerged in the ripe comedy vein that surrounds the story. It is a story of a man who, in the interest of his manhood, loves to provide a stellar surprise for the censor.

On Sunday, Thomas Meighan will be seen in "At the Criterion." It is the story of a young city girl who finds herself in a cast of players which includes, in addition to the star, Theodore Roberts, Pauline Starke, Joseph L. Downing and Frank Campani. The picture on Sunday will be actual pictures of St. Mary's Avenue. It shows the beauties of the city in all its splendor. The picture, owing to the Greeks, thoughts of persons are said to have jumped in the sea.

BIG CROWD AT JAZZLAND, BALL VEILED PROPHET, BILL.

A big crowd attended the annual Veiled Prophet Ball at Jazland last Tuesday night. George McMillan was the Prophet and Mrs. Willie Hartley was the Queen. The band included Miss Riley, Nellie, Rosalie Davis, Mattie Latte, Gerrard, Marshall and Elizabeth Reed. The escort in the Velvet Room at the ball was the King, George, Frank, Edie, Odie, Rogers, A. Patterson, E. W. Ivory and William B. Latte. The band was ballyhooed and many beautiful costumes were in evidence.

Be Entertained Next Tuesday.

The Prophet, Queen and attendant will be in their new dining room at Jazland next Tuesday night. This new addition to the dance palace has been located in the new place of business, growing to be very popular. The change in admission price to the new and dance tickets required is also to be increased. The new price will be $1.00. The new bill of fare will be in addition. The new bill of fare will be the McMillans.
